A brief guide to Ioannina International Airport
«King Pyrros»
(LGIO/IOA)

Epirus region, located in the northwestern part of Greece is one of the few areas in the country offering miles of sunny beaches and enormous green mountains to explore in a time distance of just 1 hour by road. The area offers an all-year-round travel opportunity, with multiple activities: from swimming and diving in the deep blue waters of the Ionian Sea, to mountain trekking, rafting, skiing and discovering the virgin Pindus Mountains. Epirus region hides a long historical interest, starting from archeological sites and museums of the ancient era until the newer ages. A pure destination which offers an extraordinary and unique experience to every traveller*.

Ioannina city is the capital of Epirus region and the largest city of Northwestern Greece. Well known for its Lake and the picturesque islet It hides a great multicultural and multireligious history, which - alongside with the greater region - attracts thousands of tourists from different countries. Ioannina city is easily accessible by road, as it is the only city in Greece that lies in the connection of the two main highways: Egnatia and Ionian Highways. The area is of course accessible by plane through its airport, «King Pyrrhos» Ioannina International Airport.

Advantages of Ioannina International Airport «King Pyrrros»

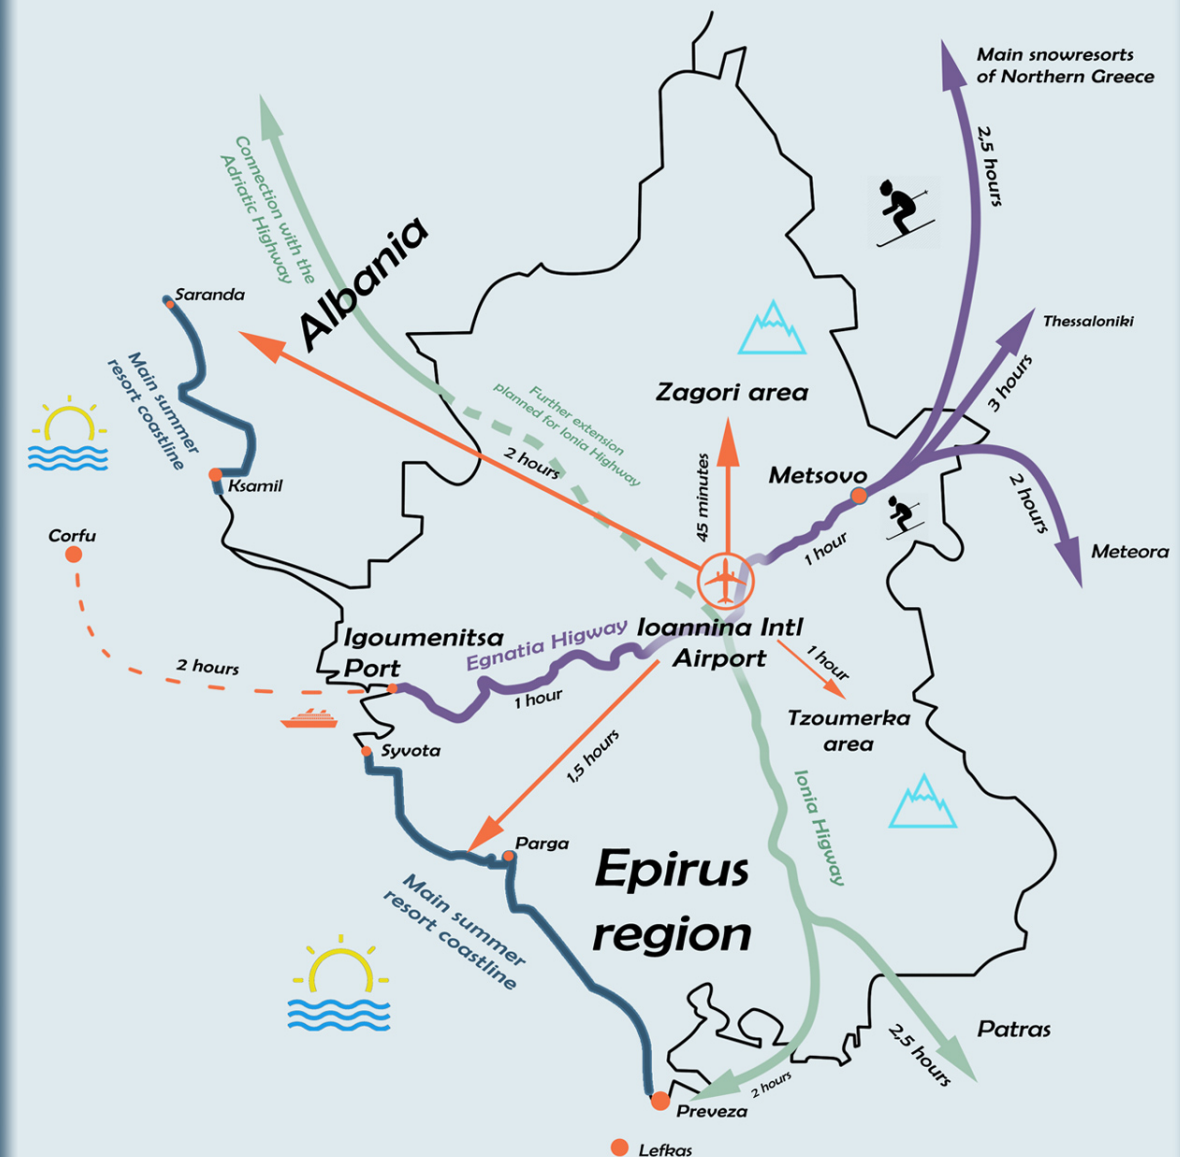

-Ioannina is the only city in Greece lying on the crossroads of the two country's main highways: Egnatia and Ionian Highways, offering to the traveller the possibility for a safe, quick and comfortable road trip to all-year-round destinations, in and out of Epirus region. Further extension of the Ionian Highway connects the area with the Adriatic Highway, offering a faster and easier entry to Albania and the Adriatic countries.

-The airport is connected with Igoumenitsa port, the largest port in Northwestern Greece, thus making it ideal for cruise tourism during the summer months.

-Ioannina airport is a hyper-regional airport, providing and entry gate to the main tourist destinations in the fast developing resorts of South Albania.

-As the only non-privatized operational airport in Northwestern Greece lying under HCAA rule, it offers competitive landing and parking fees, thus setting it friendly for General Aviation and ideal for Airlines.

-One of the few airports in Greece with new RNAV/GNSS Approach procedures (to be published until Sep 2018), allowing the aircraft to descend to a safe altitude, much lower than the standard VOR/DME approach procedures, thus reducing the flight delays and cancellations due to low clouds.

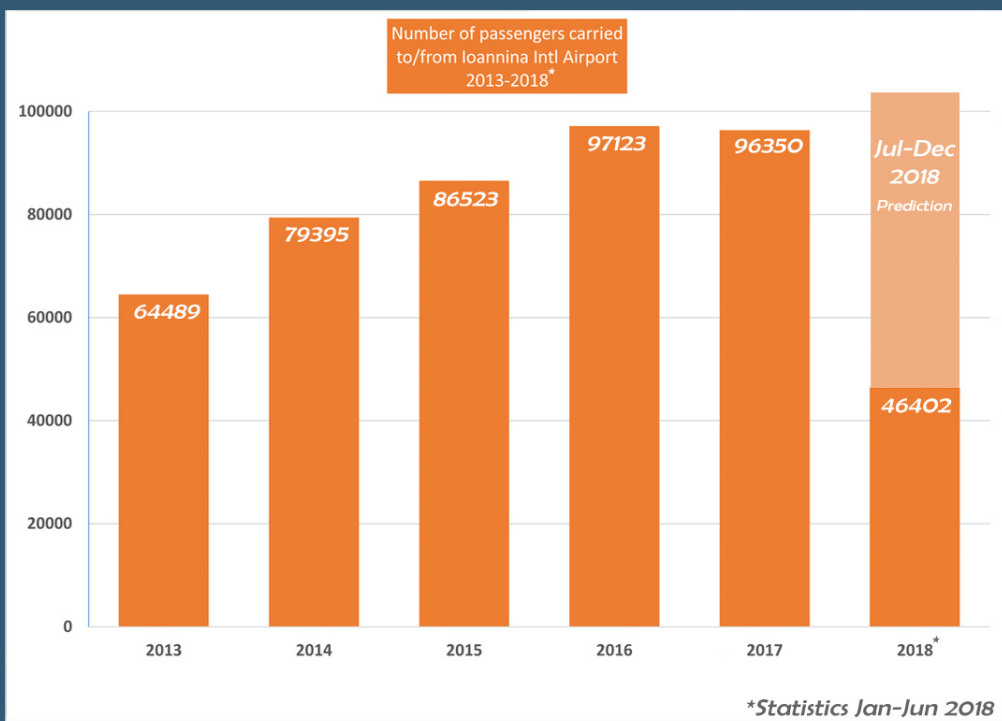

The new extended apron of a total of 51000m² offers the ability for spacious parking, both for Airlines and General Aviation / Private Jets and Helicopters.

An ideal airport for fly-ins to a magical and virgin area, offering plenty of destinations for sun-and-sea and as well alternative tourism.
